

Judging by the coverage of the Iraq war, we are already suffering from the loss of anti-trust legislation on corporate media ownership. The profit motive and political spin control what we read, see and hear. This is a threat to democracy and the American people's right to know. Please do not make this legislation even worse by allowing more types of media to be under one mega company's control. Small wonder more and more people are turning to foreign media for unbiased coverage.
